

German 1, Semester A

Course Overview

Learning a language is a multi-faceted experience in which you are introduced to a whole new set of words and ways of expressing yourself with words, along with new cultures formed by people who have been speaking that language for centuries. The German-speaking world spans Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Luxembourg, and Liechtenstein in Europe, as well as many other parts of the world.

In German 1A, you'll be introduced to several common situations in which people communicate, such as exchanging names and greetings, describing people by physical and personality traits, and describing family members and aspects of your social life. You'll start with basic sentence structures and grammatical tools, and you'll communicate by listening, speaking, reading, and writing in German as you internalize new vocabulary and grammar. You'll also learn about some regions of the German speaking world that the central characters of each unit are visiting. You will build on this semester's work as you advance in your German studies: everything that you learn about a language and the cultures in which it is spoken will serve as a foundation for further learning.

Course Goals

By the end of this course, you will be able to do the following:

- Discuss topics pertaining to introductions, including exchanging personal greetings, sharing names and phone numbers, discussing what country you are from, and date, time, and age.
- Use subject pronouns and match them with conjugated verb forms; use adjectives and articles and match them (by gender and number) with nouns.
- Examine self-identification traits, including physical appearance and characteristics, personality traits, likes and dislikes, and personal thoughts and feelings.
- Construct and comprehend, orally and in writing, sentences in German in the present tense with a variety of regular and irregular verbs.
- Discuss scenarios pertaining to family life, including your immediate family, your friends, family gatherings with extended family members, and acquaintances from work.

- Know when to use the verbs wissen (to know facts) and Kennen (to be acquainted with people and places) in several situations.
- Ask and answer questions about people's names and national origins, and to discuss dates and time of day.
- Count and recognize the numbers in German up to 1,000.
- Describe situations pertaining to home life, including common household items, responsibilities, transportation options, and technology.
- Use verbs like wollen and möchten to express likes and dislikes.
- Make comparisons and express agreement and disagreement.
- Discuss topics pertaining to your social surroundings, including social networking, at school happenings, trying out for school functions, and after school events with friends.

Language Skills

German 1A is a beginning class that does not have specific prerequisites. Nevertheless, you should have the following basic skills:

- a basic knowledge of the parts of speech such as noun, verb, subject, adjective, and adverb
- the ability to read and speak English and compose paragraphs or lines of dialogue that form a coherent whole
- a basic understanding of world geography

General Skills

To participate in this course, you should be able to do the following activities:

- Work with word processing software such as Microsoft Word or Google Docs.
- Work with presentation software, such as Microsoft Power Point.
- Do online research using various search engines and library databases.
- Communicate through email and participate in discussion boards.

For a complete list of general skills that are required for participation in online courses, refer to the Prerequisites section of the Edmentum Student Orientation document.

Credit Value

German 1A is a 0.5-credit course.

Tips for Language Learning

- Relax and enjoy yourself: To learn a new language, you have to start at the beginning. Most of the knowledge you've accumulated to date will not help you master the new challenges you face. You will make errors, so look for improvement in your ability to communicate rather than perfect replication of the language you are learning.
- Immerse yourself in the language as much as you can. Replay audio, especially extended audio passages, to gain familiarity with the sound and meanings of the language. Look for opportunities to learn songs and watch multimedia content in the language.
- Take advantage of and create additional opportunities besides those offered in the course to communicate in the language in everyday situations.
  - Use the audio recorder device provided with the course package (or any other recording device installed in your PC) to practice speaking, and play back your recordings to check for vocabulary and grammar usage and clarity of pronunciation (not perfection).
  - Practice reading the language aloud.
  - Use the discussion forums provided to practice communicating in written form with other learners.
  - Look for online language practice chat forums and real-life situations in which you can use the language, at whatever level you are comfortable with.
- Use the opportunities offered in the course to compare your responses with the sample answers provided in written form or as audio files. Your responses need not be exactly the same as sample answers; rather, you should check for correctness of vocabulary, grammar, and pronunciation. If you're in doubt, you can consult your teacher (or anyone else you know who is proficient in German).
- Learn the language in the context of the words and the situations in which they are used, instead of learning by a process of translating between German and English.
- The language you are learning in this course uses symbols, such as accents. Use these instructions to learn how to enter these symbols using your keyboard.

Course Materials

- Notebook
- Presentation software
- Computer with Internet connection and speakers or headphones

- Recording device on your computer for practicing and for teacher-submitted audio tasks
- Microsoft Word or equivalent
- Microsoft Excel or equivalent

Course Pacing Guide

This course description and pacing guide is intended to help you keep on schedule with your work. Note that your course instructor may modify the schedule to meet the specific needs of your class.
